

WuXi PharmaTech to Be Exclusive Supplier of Laboratory Testing Services to Lee's Pharm

SHANGHAI, August 25, 2015 /PRNewswire-Asia/ -- WuXi PharmaTech (Cayman) Inc. (NYSE: WX), a leading open-access R&D capability and technology platform company serving the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device industries, and Lee's Pharmaceutical Holdings Ltd. ("Lee's Pharm," Hong Kong Exchange Stock Code: 0950), a research-based biopharmaceutical company headquartered in Hong Kong with 20 years of operations in China, today announced that the two companies have signed an agreement whereby WuXi's Laboratory Testing Division (LTD) will be the exclusive supplier of laboratory testing services for Lee's Pharm. These services will include LTD's entire portfolio of discovery and IND/NDA package services, including chemistry analytical services, in vitro and in vivo biology, oncology, immunology, in vitro ADME, pharmacokinetic / pharmacodynamic studies, toxicology, and clinical bioanalysis. LTD will provide dedicated program management, streamline project coordination across WuXi, and allocate the necessary resources and R&D development efforts for Lee's Pharm programs.

"We are delighted to become exclusive supplier of the broad range of laboratory testing services for the drug discovery portfolio of Lee's Pharm," said Dr. Ge Li, Chairman and CEO of WuXi PharmaTech. "WuXi has been building a comprehensive and integrated R&D enabling platform, and this strategic collaboration is an example of delivering that platform to serve our innovative partners."

"WuXi's impressive platform of lab testing services will allow our compounds to advance seamlessly through discovery, preclinical, and clinical development," commented Dr. Benjamin Li, Executive Director and CEO of Lee's Pharm. "We are confident that this strategic partnership with LTD will streamline and accelerate our drug discovery program."
